1979 DEDICATION

MR. AND MRS. DAVID THOMAS LAUDERDALE

The Boys' Senior Class of 1979 would like to dedicate their yearbook to a man who has been called "the spirit of Westminster" in reference to the 25 years that he taught here and the influence that he had on us all. In addition to teaching English, he had also been, at one time or another during his career at Westminster, advisor to the Embryo, Student Council, and Interact Club, college counselor, coach of both Varsity Wrestling and Eighth grade Football, and a Georgia Track Official. But he means more to us than a list of positions. As Dr. Pressley said about him, "We admired and loved him for his Christian faith, for his subtle humor, for his broad knowledge, for his warm compassion, for his gentle sensitivity, for his strong character, for his profound influence on our lives." In dedicating our Lynx to him, the Boys' Senior Class of 1979 would like to use his words, written for the school's Alma Mater:

And as we leave these halls behind,
These friendships of our youth,
We breathe our prayer of gratitude,
We forward go with faith renewed and with:

Courage/Dth

The Westminster student spends four short but formative high school years learning not only what is taught and tested in the classroom, but also other qualities and insights that will last a lifetime. The most valuable teachers, then, teach about life and living not only through their words, but even more by their example. A teacher who can go beyond the impersonal matter of books and grades in order to talk with, laugh with, and encourage a student is certain to leave a deep and lasting impact. The students of the Westminster Girls' School are grateful to have such a teacher, who through her inner strength and courage, has shown us each how to live a fuller and richer life. The Girls' Senior Class of 1979 is then honored to dedicate our LYNX to one who has so unselfishly dedicated her time and loving concern to us . . . Mrs. David T. Lauderdale.

The Westminster Schools

Christian Preparatory Schools for Boys and Girls

Office of the President

January 1979

Dear Seniors:

This has been a year when we have experienced the extremes of life - joy and grief. We know afresh Solomon's wisdom "For everything a season and for every activity under heaven its time... a time for mourning and a time for dancing..." We are marked because we knew Donnie MacKaye, Mac Shreve, and David Lauderdale - they were Westminster's finest in Christian character. Their legacy adds depth and solid urgency to our purposes, and in mourning we have grown. You have, time and again, demonstrated that people are more important than achievements, that values like our sense of personal and school honor will in the long run remain imbedded in our lives and are therefore worth the risk of commitment.

And the rhythm of life has brought experiences of joy. Beyond the excitement of the wonderful achievement of a State football championship, we see ourselves in a new way - open, too involved to be sophisticated, and just plain happy enough to rejoice in the success of others which thereby becomes the success of all - a community supporting and drawing strength from each other.

Westminster is grateful to you for your leadership, for going beyond yourselves to make our School better and more real. No one of us can forget these words we heard in the fall - C. S. Lewis paraphrasing our Lord Jesus, "The principle runs through all life from top to bottom. Give up yourself, and you'll find your real self".

May God go with you.

Sincerely,

Donn Gaebelein

short stories . . .

Sand blew in his eyes. He blinked and shed tears to get it out. When the sand was gone he looked up across the desert: more sand.

He has always dreamed of playing in endless sandy dunes. He had wanted to run and roll in the soft hills. He had pictured a low orange sun and gentle brown dunes . . .

The sand stung his bare feet. It was painful walking across the desert. His feet sank in the stinging granules. The ground sucked his feet up and he struggled to pull them out.

The sun was not low and orange. It was a god of heat. It spread its fire across the desert. The flames singed his back. A heavy swirling vapor curled its way up from the ground and baked him.

As he walked he watched the ground. He did not want to see that the desert did not end so he pretended he was in a narrow corridor. He wanted a box to squeeze into. He wanted to hide from the sun and the wind open spaces.

The sun moved lower. Because he was walking west it was hard to avoid the sun; it was sinking into his line of vision. He stopped walking and looked up at the sun across the endless desert. He faced his tormentors.

The sun began by slinging arrows that pricked his skin with fire. Thousands, then millions flew low across the desert and hit him in the face, in the neck, and on the arms. They pierced his clothes. The arrows grew in number till finally the tiny pricks turned into waves. The waves came with a strange weight and he swayed in the heat. He stood fast and smiled as he watched the sun sink into a low orange ball and finally into darkness.

He shivered in the dark. He lay down in the sand and crawled into a little ball. He closed his eyes and slept. He loved it. No sun, no open spaces . . .

In the morning the sun rose and the heat swept the cold away. He walked again, but he walked only until noon. He was growing weak.

When the sun was at its peak he stopped walking. His feet sank in the sand. The tiny grains ran down between his toes. It felt so good. He sat down and rolled down a dune. He played in the sand. He ran his hands through it. He buried his feet in it. He pulled it close to his body and swam in it. The sand flowed in around his legs and his waist. He placed handfuls on his chest. He sank into the cool sand. From beneath the grains he peered out onto gently brown hills and a low orange sun. Then he drifted beneath the dunes where there was no sun, no open spaces . . .

Solitaire
As the caulking chips
In the breezeway
Of a two-step, crooked house
A withered man, squinting sweat,
Turning cards
Into seven stacks
On the linolieum,
A wizened man, stands
Brittle as sunlight sheering
The city silt.

Sullen Sunday afternoons
The streets are empty,
The cards turn
Silent inside the mind.

Varsity Takes State In '78

Patience and excellence . . . these words acquired sharp definition and significance for members of the 1978 varsity football team. Progressing from the sweat and mistakes of early August training camp through a painful defeat at Lakeshore and a proud shutout at Marist, the team members sensed a larger goal than simply winning this game or that. Players and coaches had to struggle sincerely to keep both victory and defeat in perspective after a long week of intense preparation for Friday. Whatever happened, Saturday quickly reduced it to merely another step in building toward the real goal, the AAA state championship. Letting the Woodward game slip away, stopping Roswell on the 1 yard line, slugging it out in the rain at Milton, devastating anyone who got in our way at the end of the regular season, we learned and grew and changed what needed changing while we refined what was working already. There were no guarantees — on a given Friday anything might happen. No two practices were the same; no two games were the same, yet a continuity grew, centered on our recognition that our real goal was excellence and our real opponent was anything less than that. Patience, based on hard work and pride in our ability, let us reach that excellence when it was most needed. In the playoffs, we soundly defeated Troup 33-7, won a street fight with Marist 12-10, took on Ware County and awesome Timmy McCray 42-28, and finally prevailed in the extraordinary battle with Swainsboro with brilliant overtime strategy and execution. The victory over Dalton seemed almost anti-climactic as the rain, elementing finesse, forced us to simply dig in and beat them man to man. We did. The celebrating on the field told the story as energy, long restrained and disciplined, was released finally in the joy of achievement. We were where we had struggled to be: we belonged there and could see the victory as the result of a long process that will have a lasting meaning for everyone who participated in it.

9th Goes Undefeated

Streaking through a six-game season, the ninth grade Cats were unstoppable and impenetrable. Defensively, Chuck Breithaupt, Stewart Brann, Byron Harris, and Michael Russell anchored the line. Alfred Thompson and Peter Thurmond intercepted passes and permitted few gains over ten yards. The ends, Rick Upshaw, David Dubrof, and Ken Lindeman, also dominated the defensive perimeter. The offense was led by quarterback Tom Difiore, Harold Dawson, and Chuck Easley. Halfback Thompson set a record for scoring on punt and kickoff returns. No opponent withstood the Cats' powerful offense. Because the full twenty-six man effort created this perfect season, the team dedicated a trophy to the school instead of giving individual awards. To sum up their past and predict their future, "6-0 in '78; 15-0 in '81!"

Junior High Teams: Future Varsity Stars

The seventh grade football team of the Boys' Junior High was the 1978 champion of the Metropolitan Football League. The team finished the regular season with a 6-0-1 record, and then went on to defeat St. Joseph's of Marietta in the league's fifth annual bowl game. St. Joseph's, the team that tied the seventh grade during the regular season, fell in the championship game, 14-12. Coaches Bob Ward and John McIlvaine announced the best lineman, Todd Moran; best offensive player, Andrew Abernathy; best defensive player, who could be the best quarterback ever to play for the seventh grade, Steve Slayden. Coach Ward said this team improved more from week to week than any team he has coached.

Although they had a 3-4 season, the eighth grade team showed much promise. Led by captains Thomas Baynes and first-year Cat Joe Cooper, the team successfully shutout both Wills and Osborne while embarassing North Cobb with a 30-0 victory. The Best Lineman award was given to Graham Loomis, the Best Back award winner was Royce Dorsey, and captain Thomas Baynes received the Most Valuable Player award.

The boys' and girls' Cross Country team had a good year; they finished in the top half in invitational meets and did well in dual meets. The boys' team was led by captains Tom Hicks and Bryan Vroon, and the girls were led by Elizabeth Ward and Claire Bates. After the end of the season, members of the boys' team ran 233 miles in a 24-hour marathon to raise money for three charities.

The award winners for the girls' team were: Katherine Boozer, Most Valuable; Caroline Tift, Most Improved; Elizabeth Ward, Best Effort; Valerie Vroon, Most Outstanding. The boys' awards went to Bryan Vroon, Most Valuable; Tom Hicks, Best Effort; Jim Cherrybone, Most Improved. The Junior Varsity winners were Jay MacKenna, Most Outstanding, and John Pietri, Most Improved.

Varsity Boys Have Mixed Success

The Boy's Varsity basketball team completed a successful year, winning 16 games and coming in second 8 times. Of these twenty-four games, eighteen were played with different starting lineups due to injuries, illness, late arrivals, and normal competetive intersquad displacement. The highlights of the season were: second place in the Greater Atlanta Prep Classic, playing well enough during the regular season to be the number one seed in the sub-region tournament, and defeating a strong St. Puis team twice in the regular season in two outstanding games. The Wildcats were led by senior Teddy Benson who at 6'10" was one of the best basketball players in the state of Georgia. Supporting Teddy were seniors Cole Egan, Kevin Spurgeon, Ponder Harrison, Wylly Killorin, and Dan Drais. Two Juniors, Richard Lindeman and Herman Russell, handled most of the guard duties.

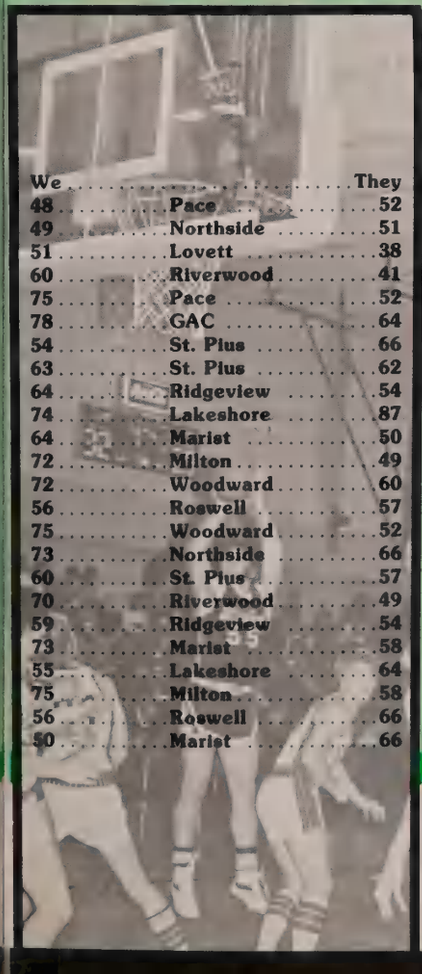

Teddy Benson received the S. White Kenan award for the third consecutive year. Kevin Spurgeon recieved the best defensive player award and Brian Vroon received the coaches' award. The elected permanent co-captains were Teddy Benson and Kevin Spurgeon.

Sub-Varsity Teams Gain Valuable Experience

The J.V. basketball team enjoyed their most successful season in the last 10 years. They rolled up an excellent 14-2 record, with the two losses coming by a total of just five points. The team was led by David Butler, who was the highest scorer with 18 points a game; Chuck Easley, who had 13 points and 13 rebounds a game; and Jeff Stubbs, who gave good leadership throughout the season.

Coach Lee Grenci's ninth grade team came off the court with a 4-4 record. Marist was their toughest opponent, who they beat 42-40 in overtime. Peter York, Russell Lloyd, Kenneth Lindeman, and Rob Grady were the players that contributed the most and played the best throughout the season.

Junior High: Mixed Success

With the switch of soccer from winter to spring, the 8th grade "B" team made its debut. The team consisted of fourteen boys, most of whom had very little competitive basketball experience. The purpose of the program, the only one of its kind in the Metro area, was to give playing time to each boy and to allow for the development of his skills. The "B" team played many of the same opponents as the "A" team, and as the season progressed, the team showed excellent improvement.

The seventh grade basketball team completed an undefeated regular season, compiling a record of eight wins and no defeats. Behind the scoring of Steve Slayden, Todd Moran, and Andrew Abernathy, the team was explosive on offensive and determined on defense. The team is also favored to win the Buckhead Rotary League Championship.

Girls Varisty Basketball: Youth In Acion.

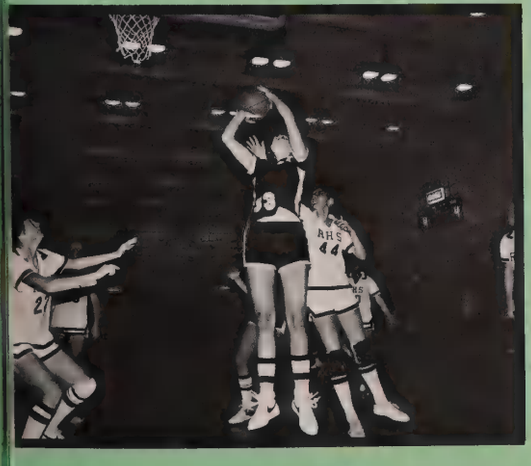

The Varsity Girls Basketball Team, composed of mostly underclassmen this year, performed well with the leadership of the only starting senior, Mike Frankhouser. Mike's rebounding, inside shooting, and remarkable poise had much to do with the team's victories. Their losses, however, were sometimes simply the result of the team's overall inexperience. This will no longer be the problem in the seasons to come and what Mike's leadership meant this year plus the lessons learned the hard way will help the team towards more victorious records. Juniors Mimi Skelton, Caroline Tift, Mimi Bremer, and Pat Boomershine contributed to several important victories and promise to be strong leaders when they return to head up the 1979-80 varsity squad. The sophomore representation on this year's team was held by Claire Dorris, while the freshmen dominated the scene in numbers and participation. Leila Taratus, Helen Rogers, Laura Jarrell, and Patty Jervey all demonstrated marked improvement as the season progressed; their speed and aggressiveness were instrumental throughout the season. Shawn Burns and Rebecca Marshall were able to divide their time between varsity and junior varsity to receive the combined benefits of Coaches Wade Boggs and Marcia Wright. With the end of the 1978-79 season, the team laments not only the loss of three year letterperson Mike Frankhouser, but also the loss of their devoted manager Lisa Young who has helped the team out for several years. With eleven underclassmen returning plus those promoted from junior varsity, the 1979-80 team has no doubts about an experienced, well-rounded, and undefeatable team.

Young Junior Varsity Girls Gain Valuable Experience

Rebecca Marshall fires another one.

With Coach Wade Boggs at the helm, the J.V. Girls basketball team encountered rough waters and ended up with a record of 1 win and 12 losses. The team was led by sophomores Christina Lundquist, Marnie Wright, Dina Franch, and Claire Dorris. Freshmen players were Patti Landon, Rebecca Marshall, Shawn Burns, Jacqueline Ward, Juliet Asher, Julie Garnett, Kim Weiss, Carole Davidson, Beth Wright, Chrissie Rogers, Donna Izlar, and Elizabeth Driebe. Leading scorers were Shawn Burns and Rebecca Marshall who also gained valuable experience by playing with the Varsity team. Catherine Cox was the manager and official scorer.

Junior High Girls Demonstrate Determination

The Junior High Girls completed a highly successful season by establishing an 8-2 record. The team began with only five girls returning from last year's squad. Due mostly to a lack of experience, the squad had numerous close games as evidenced by a combined winning margin of only 12 points in six of their eight victories. However, the girls steadily improved all season and closed their year with a solid victory over Woodward. Mr. Cutbirth is looking forward to another excellent basketball season with starter Mary Ann Marshall returning along with three other seventh graders.

WRESTLING

Wrestlers Enjoy Varied Successes

The Wildcat Grapplers wrestled to a 6-4 record, working hard for each win. Though at the start of the season the football players were absent, the varsity overcame Riverwood and M.D. Collins as well as an exciting one point victory over Roswell. After Christmas, the Cats were victorious three more times, including a victory over arch-rival Woodward. This upset win was dedicated to Coach Leon Scott who is stepping down from his coaching position. The team was lead by captains Russell Rhea (6-3), Bob Rolader (5-3), who placed fourth in the Woodward tournament, and Bradley Block (6-0), runner-up in the Woodward, N. Metro, Area, and State tournaments. Other notable efforts included Charles Lewis, a 7-0 regular season record with the most pins on the team, and Loren Jacobs who wrestled to a 6-0 season. The team accomplished much with help from Bubba Adams, a new coach from Conneticutt, and Scott Ackerman, former Westminster State Champion.

The Grapplers are looking forward to a strong season next year with senior Area and State hopefuls Brad Block, Charles Lewis, and John Hamilton. Underclass hopefuls include junior Doug Williams and sophomores Bill Haltiwanger and Chuck Breithaupt.

The team's leader, junior Richard Proctor, finished with a 5-2 season record while Chuck Breithaupt, a sophomore, accomplished an undefeated 7-0 record. Since the majority of the wrestlers were rookies, they learned valuable lessons which will prove fruitful as their experience increases. Although Coach Bubba Adams provided excellent instruction, reflected by the extent of improvement in all the wrestlers, the boys lament that they will not have the chance to perform under Varsity Coach Leon scott. They still have hopes, however, that their future varsity seasons will prove fruitfully.

Although the Varsity Volleyball team had no returning starters and only three returning letter winners, the team enjoyed an excellent season. They were 8-2 during the regular season and after the post season tournament were 9-4. Senior captain Andrea Cohen provided excellent leadership along with fellow seniors Julie Weckerling and Mike Frankhouser. Juniors Pat Boomershine and leading setter Mimi Skelton lend stability for the future as well as leading spiker and MVP Leila Taratus, a freshman. The JV Volleyball team was young and inexperienced, though hard work managed to win four out of ten games. Barbie Paul and Marie Steele were co-captains. Leading setter Ruth Haas, spiker Claire Dorris, and MVP Robbie Harrison were standouts for the team.

SOCCER

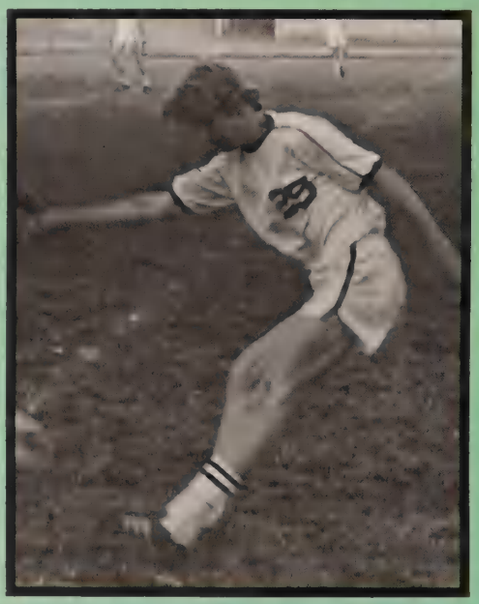

The 1979 version of the Westminster soccer team has continued a winning tradition. Captain Gordon Beckham anchored a defense which encountered some problems due to injuries. With seniors Teddy Benson, Bryan Davis, and John Oglesby wearing casts and watching from the bench, the secondary which had to carry the load consisted of seniors Jimmy Hull and John York, junior Jack Westbrook, and sophomore goalie Dan Latimore. A young, inexperienced midfield with juniors Lowndes Harrison, Pete McLain, and David Woodham rose to all occasions. Offensive punch was supplied by returning starters Rufus Chambers and Jim Elder, the team's leading scorer, junior speedster Pat Hickey, and rookie ninth grader Eric Nutter. Playing in the spring for the first time, the team drew record crowds for their 7 O'clock Friday night games.

9th Soccer: Games Reflect Hard Work

The Ninth-Grade Soccer Team, under the coaching skills of Mr. Jack Pickard and Dr. George Lamplugh got off to a promising start this season with a 3-0 record. Standouts were offensive players Jim Delaney, John Barns, and Peter York, along with Ivan Allen who holds a strong defensive position.

The team and coaches forsee no difficulty in finishing the 1979 season with an undefeated record. In fact, from the looks of the Ninth-Grade team, their talent, determination, and dedication, varsity teams in 1981 and 1982, should not only be successful, but they should capture the state titles two years in a row. The experience the team gained from participating in their games will not only help them in facing future foes, but also increased their desire to continue playing and strive for even higher levels of ability. With this determination cultivated at the ninth-grade level, there is no way of telling how far they will go.

Junior High Green And White Excel

This year's junior high soccer participation made it necessary for the formation of two teams, the white and green teams. The junior high green team was off to a blazing start by defeating Lovett and Woodward, their two toughest opponents, with a combined score of 15-2. Catalyzed by superb offensive play and supported with an aggressive defense, the team strived for an undefeated season.

The junior high white team had only had one game at the time of this writing. In a closely contested and physical game, Westminster prevailed over M.D. Collins 1-0. The team got valuable help from the defense from both Bremer and Baynes. Gibson protected the goal, and Woodhall ran well in four attacks on the sidelines. Dover and Hewes showed active cooperation in passing. Coach Ackerman has kept the team busy in drills, scrimmages, and conditioning.

The Wildcat Track team has had quite a productive year. Standouts for the team have been Chuck Easley in the 100 and 220, Bill Collins, and Alan Roos in the shot put. Ladd Jones has done extremely well in the 440 leaving all opponents in his dusty trail. The 440 relay team for the Cats, composed of Chuck Easley, Bill Collins, Ladd Jones, and Ponder Harrison, has done well, placing in the top two in every dual or triple meet this year. The Cats' record so far this year is two losses and one victory. The losses came at the hands of Marist and Walton, with a tri-meet victory coming over both Pace and Pebblebrook. The track men also placed ninth in the Sprint-Medley Relay at the Georgia Relays. Chuck Easley received fifth place in the 100 yard dash at the Georgia Relays and a third place at the Florida Relays.

The 1978-79 swimming team enjoyed another season of success. Both the girls and the boys have posted excellent dual meet records: 6-1 and 6-2 respectively.

No team in Georgia defeated the boys' team. The team was led by Todd Cooper, Nick Justicz, Team Captain Alan Joel, David Matthews, and Alan Bomar. The first three of these men hold a total of 5 school records between them. In addition, all 5 qualified for the State Championships.

The girls were led by Timmi Perrin, state record holder in the 100 yard backstroke, and Team Captain Renee Rhoades. Perrin qualified for the State Championships in five different events. Debbie Lance and Cindy Hutchings also qualified for state.

DIVING

Look! I can touch my toes!

The 1979 Westminster diving team boasts some of the finest talent assembled at Westminster. Coach Billy Ray Schmidt's troup completed a successful dual meet season with only one loss. Sophomores Ford and Taylor have both experienced success nationally in the sport; Craig was eleventh in the 15-16 age group and Mike was seventh in the 13-14 division in last summer's National AAU Age Group Championships. The depth of the squad is strengthened by junior Allan Aycock, a three year letterman. Aycock has been instrumental in the team's placing 1-2-3 in most dual meets. The single member of the girl's team is Renee Rhoades, a junior. "Renee has made more progress this year than any female diver we have had," Schmidt states.

GYMNASTICS

Underclassmen dominated the varsity gymnastics squad this year, along with many new additions to the team, including Coach Joanne Owens. Most of this year's efforts will go towards struggling to pull together a new and young team. Although there is tremendous talent on the team, experience will always play a leading role in a winning season. Since the team is composed of four underclassmen, there is an extremely optimistic outlook for several years to come. The team's only senior, Lori Lewis, provides the leadership these girls need to improve. Together the girls are able to encourage each other and instill the hope that the season will turn out victorious.

Junior High Hard Work Pays Off

The Junior High Wildcat gymnasts face three opponents this season with a bright outlook. Eighth grade standouts this season should be Dorsey Sisk, Amber Seldes, Linda Loudermilk, Betsy McIlvaine, and Mary Campbell Jenkins. Adding strength to this core should be a seventh grader with a lot of grace and skill, Nancy LeBey. With the added talents of eight other gymnasts in the seventh and eighth grades, Westminster will make Lovett, Pace, and Woodward good "Wildcat bait".

With the help of an outstanding new assistant coach, Mary Hanawalt, coach Jane Kent and the Westminster Girls' Softball team anticipate a fine season. The team won its first game 10-6 over Woodward and will participate not only in the league tournament in Marietta, but also in the Berry College Invitational Softball Tournament at Rome, Ga.

Although the two year winner of the MVP trophy, Cathy MacFarlane, graduated, junior Ginny Rich has been invaluable as shortstop and as team leader. Laura Schoen, Rhonda Hickson and other returning players provide experience on a team with five freshmen. The team depends on freshman pitcher Jeanette Dolan, who is also a threat at the plate, along with veteran hitters Phred Huber and Mimi Skelton.

1979 Baseball Team Meets Tough Opposition

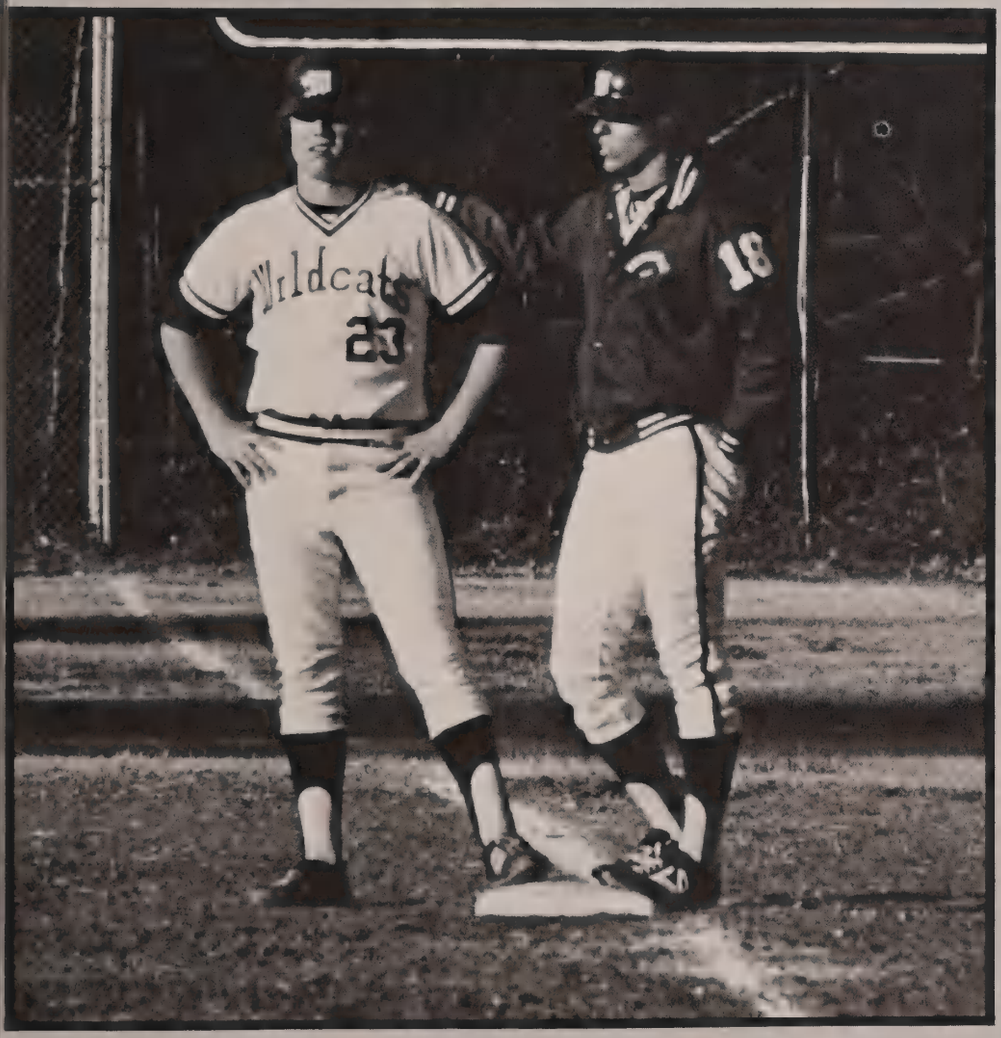

Baseball competition depends highly on pitching skill and the Westminster Wildcats this year have what it takes with solid support from senior Randy Branch and sophomores John Garnett and Doug Williams. The team will play ten games before entering the Region competition and hopefully these games will provide the necessary experience needed to compete strongly in the highly competitive 4-AAA region. The infield is dominated by seniors Chip Caldwell and Steve Felton and juniors Lindeman, Smith, and Franco. Outfield support comes from Greg Georgas, Herman Scharz, and John Dolan. Team competition comes between David MacFarlane and Jimmy Irvin for the catcher position. Next year's team will also include many experienced players with the return of eleven juniors and four sophomores that are already playing well in this year's varsity competition.

Tennis

Little Bill strokes a forehand volley.

The tennis season of spring 1979 has been one of building as well as satisfying performance. Abilities on the team vary. Bill Love, a junior who plays number one, demonstrated solid serving and overheads. Andrew Weiner displayed an extremely consistent use of all the fundamentals. Bryan Vroon, a rookie to the varsity team, accelerated the pace of rallies by belting the tennis balls with fearless tenacity. Through consistent and strong play, Mark Richardson will help the team. He is already playing in the number four position. This year's seniors, Bill Anderson, John Shoffner, and Keith Love, contribute leadership in morale as well as tennis play. The experience they have gained from previous participation at the varsity level is reflected by their consistent and skillful manipulation of the ball and their opponents. Coach Weatherly has been instrumental in instructing and preparing the boys for the tough opposition they anticipate meeting this season.

GOLF

Tim Webb, swinging senior.

This year's golf team possesses great talent, though each member will have to achieve a consistent and a fine performance in order for the team to reach their ultimate potential; this achievement will determine the success of the season. Led by veteran Tim webb, the team expects to do well, but clutch performances by the less experienced players will be necessary to reach state. Coach Patton expressed his feelings about the team when he said, "This is the best group of guys we've had in the past couple of years, but other teams have the same talent. Consistency, practice, and determination will separate the victor from the rest of the schools." This year's team is fortunate to have a home course, the Atlanta Country Club, since in past years they did not have this benefit. The course will give the players a taste of what is to come in later years plus a great place to practice. In the golfing world, practice is what it takes to make a pro.

Stuart Jones: always a threat

The 1978-79 season has produced the most successful rifle team in the six years that Dr. Robert McDonough has been coaching. the "Bullshooters" have just finished their first undefeated season, boosting their win to loss record as 116 wins to 6 loses.

The Cats also made a strong showing at the Naitonal Junior Sectional Tournament duirng March, bringing home a High Scholastic medal, with Captain Stuart Jones and Ken McCarson placing sixth and ninth respectively.

With new skill showing up in members such as Blue Spruell and Chris Hanes, the Bullshooters hope to do as well at the State Championships as they have overall this season.

HOMECOMING

"I won, Mom!!!!!"

Winning lapel by the Seniors

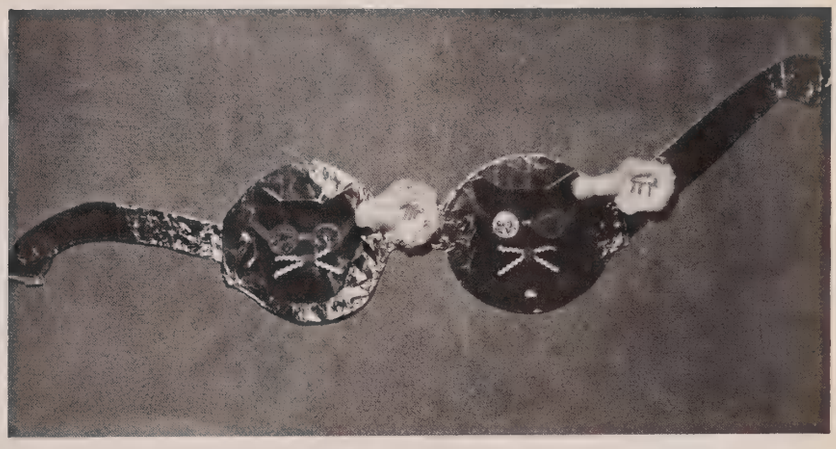

The 1978 Homecoming was a great success in all respects. Competition between classes was close, with the Sophomores' portrayal of the theme "Shave the Lions" winning in the hall competition over the Freshmen's "Pave the Yellowbrick Road with the Cowardly Lions". The Seniors won the lapel competition with their theme of "Slice up Pi High" over the Juniors' "Cats are Cool, but PiR^2" lapels. Competition between football teams was not so close, however, as the Wildcats rolled over St. Pius with a 34-17 victory. Claire Bates, escorted by Jim Shelton, was crowned 1978 Homecoming Queen.

Plain & Fancy

Young and Foolish

Is it impossible for a high class New York couple to get along in the Amish community of Bird in Hand? The cast of "Plain and Fancy" proves it can be done, and get a few laughs in the process! This musical comedy by Joseph Stein and Will Glickman was presented at Westminster in October. Under the direction of Frank Boggs and Durwood Fincher, the stars of the play, Rajayne Gustafson, Bryan Kibler, Catherine Boggs, Holt Sanders, Karen Wright, Reid Freeman, Hannah Storen, Bob Lobel, and Harold Franch, achieved a tremendous success.

MARDI GRAS 79

Mythology: The Gods And Goddesses

Valerie Tschappat is high on love.

APHRODITE, Goddess Of Love

The theme for the 1979 Mardi Gras was the gods and goddesses of Mount Olympus. Each class was required to write an original skit based on the god or goddess of their choice. The skit must be no longer than 10 minutes and should pertain to the chosen god or goddess without reproducing a myth. The Freshmen did an outstanding job this year, portraying their them of Aphrodite, the goddess of love. Their skit, featuring the infamous "Borden Geckham" took third place. The float, ridden by Valerie Vroon and pulled by Denis Kennedy and Alison Wilson, took an astounding first place giving the Freshman class an impressive first place overall.

APOLLO, GOD OF MUSIC AND POETRY

The Sophomore class, under the leadership of Laura Salter, dedicated much time and hard work to the execution of their theme. They picked Apollo, the god of poetry and music as the center of their float and skit. The skit, entitled "Everything Ends on a Good Note" took the audience through the musical land of notes to the poetic land of dancing letters and inkwells. Their float was ridden by Mary Lee Gibson with pullers Catherine Davis and Margot Tingue was titled "Chariot of the Gods". The Sophomore class showed great enthusiasm and creativity in both float and skit competition.

HYPNOS, GOD OF SLEEP

The Junior class was awarded two second places for the portrayal of the theme "Hypnos", the god of sleep. Their float "The Dreamboat" was captained by Catherine Eaton and navigated by Linda Floyd and Mimi Deaton. Elizabeth Watson and Holli Cates helped Renee Rhodes through the land of screams and dreams to find the key to sweet lullabys.

AURORA, GODDESS OF DAWN

The Seniors received a close second place overall for their fantastic execution in both float and skit, in portraying their theme of Aurora, goddess of the Dawn. The massive float, entitled "The Wings of Dawn" and ridden by the lovely Anne Horsley, received a disappointing third place. The brilliant skit, "It's always Darkest Before the Dawn," depicting Aurora's visit to "Hotlanta," was awarded a well-deserved first place. The Seniors, through dedication, thoughtful planning, and a lot of hard work, produced a Mardi Gras which was a tribute to their talents and an enjoyable experience for all.

"You mean this is just the beginning?"

Finsthwait goes for it

The success of the 1978 Blood Drive is illustrative of the generous spirit and warm concerr the Westminster students have for the enrich ment of the Atlanta community. The project was planned and supervised by Laura Schoen and David Messer, Girls' and Boys' Student Council Presidents, and Barbara Rosser and Bob Royalty, Girls' and Boys' Senior Class Presidents; the Blood Drive received strong additional support from PAWS. The original goal of 100 pints was exceeded to provide finally, 125 pints of blood. This effort along with the tentative second Blood Drive in the spring will constitute a valuable contribution to a needy cause.

Christmas is a joyous time for enrichment of the community atmosphere at Westminster. Many activities reflect this spirit of charity, love, and thankfulness. The Christmas dinner and bazaar, sponsored by the Service, Student, and Athletic Councils, raises funds to send a child to the Westminster Summer Camp. The Chorale, Ensemble, and Band put forth a great deal of effort also, and enhance the Christmas season with their delightful performances at Christmas assemblies, the bazaar, and various other occasions.

In Memory of Mac

When we reflect back on all the times, both good and bad, that we have experienced up to now, one thing stands out vividly in our minds: the death of our friend, Mac Shreve. It has been almost two years since that day at the swimming pool, but many of us can truthfully say that there has rarely been a day when we have not thought about Mac.

We can remember the disbelief, and how that disbelief changed into a horrible nightmare. We remember the grieving, the crying, and the total sadness of the whole affair.

The impact of Mac's death is something the Class of 1979 can never forget. But we will also never forget the joys that Mac brought into our lives. His aggressiveness on the football field was something to be desired, and it was only appropriate for our state championship team to be wearing his number "52" on the backs of their helmets.

Before the senior class leaves Westminster to travel to different colleges, let us at least remember Mac one more time. And pray to God that a relationship with someone you love can continue, and not be cut short.

Just get'n by or get'n by is my stocking trade, living it day to day. Pick'n up the pieces where ever they fall. Just let'n it roll on the high time carry the low. Just live'n my life easy come easy go.

WES FRENCH
My family, my Jesus, my memories and dreams are intertwined in a house on the hill. The mountains, the streams green pines tall and lean surround me so calm and so still. In my Appalacia, my neighbors are kind. They love me if I'm right or wrong. Though others walk tall, I feel very small. I praise God each day with a song.

This has been an exciting year for the 6th grade as we welcomed 42 new students and expanded to five classes. Our new 6th graders came from 20 different schools with one student commuting daily from Gainesville.

We've broadened our program to include Health and Values, and together with their ten other subjects, the schedule has been full, and the 6th graders have had a great year!

— Mrs. MacFarlane.

Fourth grade — a year of exploration! Sailing with the early explorers, reliving colonial days, forging a new nation. We're also exploring metrication: measuring, weighing, cooking, and experimenting. Our newest venture is playing the recorder and choosing an instrument so that we can join the band. Field trips show us how people lived in and around our community in the early days and how they live and work today.

unpredictable . . . FIRST GRADE . . . Determined

The First grade year at Westminster is one of growth and awareness. The children begin to work independently, and assume greater responsibility for themselves, as well as those around them.

We are fortunate to be able to enrich the learning program with field trips. This year the first graders visited the farmer's market and purchased pumpkins for their room. They have studied tropical fish, and visited the Aquarium, Inc. shop. They visited the Fernbank Planetarium and learned something about stars and planets.

Mrs. Collumn's and Mrs. Hickman's class, from left to right; Front Row: Ruthanna Millman, Jennifer Ray, Cannon Wilson, Court Thomas, Scott O. enthusiastic . . . curious . . . PRE-FIRST . . .

The pre-first students and teachers are finding their Tull Hall experience challenging and rewarding. The "homey" atmosphere provides a happy transition from nursery school to "real school". Especially attractive are the classrooms which are light, bright and inviting, each one unique in its own way. Other pluses include the two kitchens which are available for storing snacks and for cooking projects, the lovely brick fireplace in the reception area and library, and the playground with its beautiful equipment designed especially for pre-first children.

To Gordon and Cole, the Very Best: you're in our hearts, you're in our souls, you're still the one, sweet dream baby Cole! Through two long years, you've been so much fun, we'll always love you, dear sweet Gordon! And even when you go away, you know we'll remain true — because now and forevermore, we're hopelessly devoted to you! Love always, Dorothy and Patty (we'll miss you two!)

Carnes, Thanks For Teaching Us All How To "Get Loose" And "Slur"!

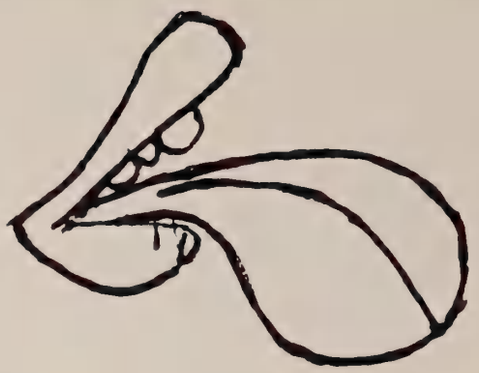

Thanks for 38 Years!
Hope That The Next 14
Are As Good!

I wonder . . .
If you've never put on grease paint and drawn a smile over half your face
Or dressed up in crazy clothes like a gypsy tramp.
Gone mad.
And if you've never stood before a crowd of carping critics and won them
with your tricks
Or failed to.
If you've never done anything outrageous
in all your life,
How will you ever know
The importance of being a clown?

Dear Otis,

Thanks for making this year so special for me.
I'm going to miss you.

From you know who, but they don't.

Presenting Buechner's Rare Earth Band

How do we say goodbye to what we've had, and the good times that can't be replaced? We don't know where this road is leading. All we know is where we've been, and what we've been through together. We'll take with us the memories, and hope they'll get us through tomorrow because it's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday.

Third down, one to go

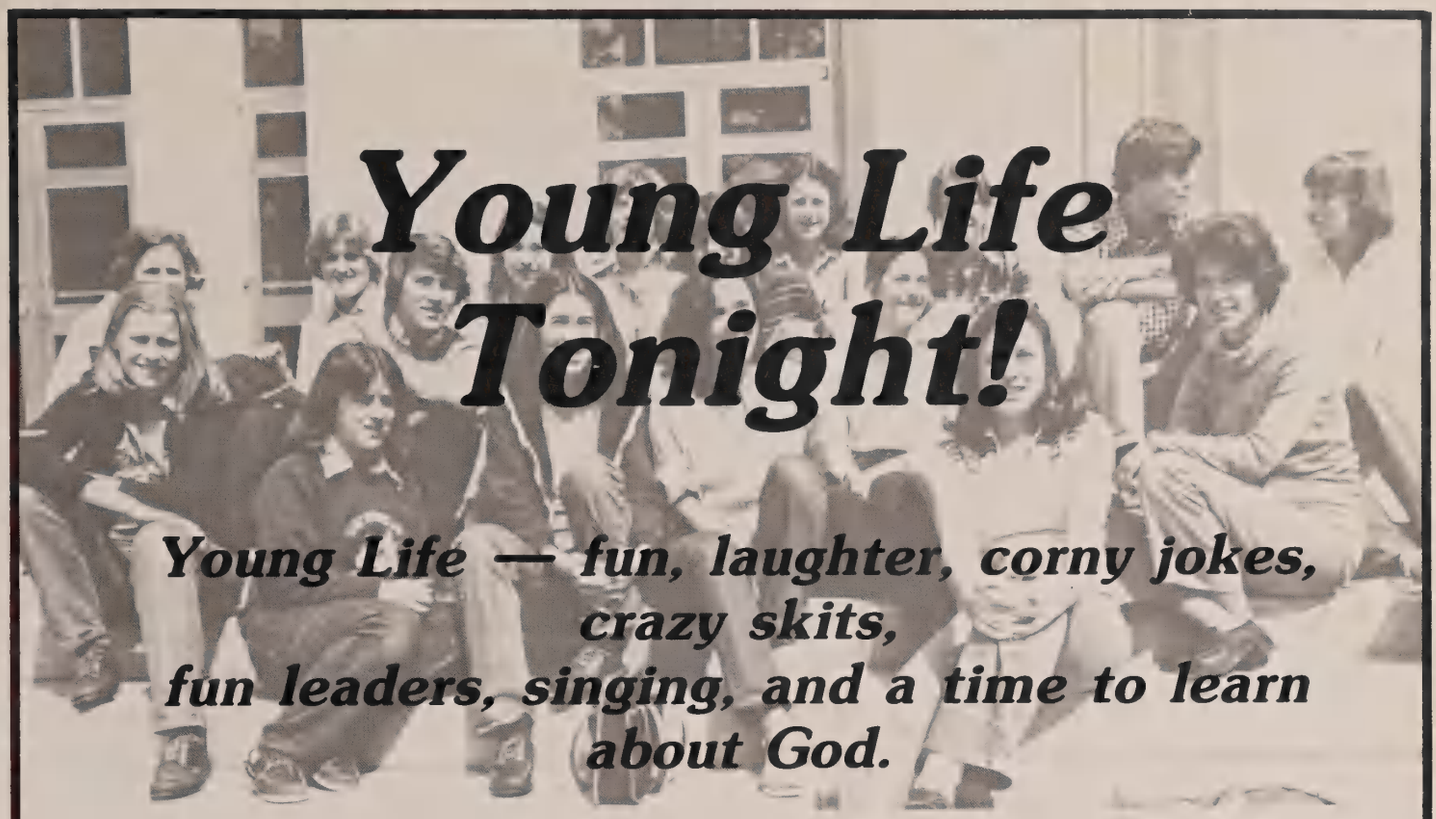

Thanks to you, Lee, we took a chance on our Fifth year of higher mathematics, everything came out in the long run, and we got an education to boot.

To F.W.F.: Thanks for three (??) years as advisor.

Footprints in the sands of time."

— Longfellow

The editors of the 1979 LYNX wish to leave behind us 264 carefully composed pages representing a year's worth of organization, layouts, deadlines and frustrations. We sincerely hope that the student body will find our "footprints in the sands of time" an accurate record of the past school-year, and a reflection of the true spirit of the Westminster community.
